Growth through personal crisis and intensity is a natural but often distressing process. People who have been there are uniquely capable, though, of supporting others in their journey and challenges. Based in best practices for mental health recovery, suicide prevention and crisis intervention, Growing Through! is a transformative peer-based skills training for providing support to others at life's toughest moments, promoting hope and preventing suicide death.

Full day experiential Growing Through, workshop on crisis support and lived experience for up to 20 individuals. This is an advanced training for individuals trained to provide support services as a Peer Support or Crisis Support Specialist.

Participant Requirements: ASIST trained (or similar) crisisline workers, certified Oregon peer specialists, MFT or similar, related para-professionals with at least 1 year in the field.

Trainers: Eduardo Vega

Suicide Attempt Survivor and Social Change Activator. Eduardo Vega is CEO of Red Lever Solutions, a consulting and technical assistance collective focused on social change, social justice and health systems transformation

Certification:
6 CEU's through NASW

Cost: $150.00

Don't miss this rare opportunity to participate in this meaningful training that will build capacity and comprehension around suicide prevention and response.

Register today. Space is limited.
