

Preventing Substance Abuse & Suicide

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

March 7, 2019

Natalie Sept

503-201-1928

natalies@linesforlife.org

ANNUAL SUICIDE PREVENTION CONFERENCE TO BUILD COMMUNITY HOPE

SUNRIVER, ORE. -- On March 13-15th, 2019 the Oregon Suicide Prevention Conference will convene community leaders, health practitioners and those with lived experience to discuss ways we can prevent suicide in Oregon. Led by Lines for Life, partners in prevention will lead workshops and community-based discussions on paths to hope and healing. Special presentations by local and national leaders in suicide intervention and prevention: Eduardo Vega, suicide attempt survivor and social change activator, Arnold W. Thomas, member of the Shoshone-Paiute Tribal Nations of the Great Basin region in the Western United States, Caitlin Ryan, Director of the Family Acceptance Project®, Dr. Scott Poland, author of "Suicide in Schools", and many others.

Media interested in covering these events should RSVP by sending an email to natalies@linesforlife.org.

WHAT: Oregon Suicide Prevention Conference, "Communities Building Hope Together"

WHEN: March 13-15, 2019 Draft Agenda

WHERE: Sunriver Resort, 17600 Center Drive, Sunriver, Oregon, 97707

CONTACT: Natalie Sept, Communications Director, 503-201-1928

FOR MORE INFORMATION: Oregon Suicide Prevention Conference

###

Lines for Life is a 501c3 nonprofit that works to prevent substance abuse and suicide and promote mental wellness. The organization operates the suicide crisis line 24/7/365 in addition to the Oregon YouthLine, Senior Loneliness Line, Drug & Alcohol Line, Military Helpline and many others. We also work to find ways to end the opioid crisis.